By David R. Montgomery

W. W. Norton & Company. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 320 pages. Dimensions: 8.2in. x 5.5in. x 1.0in. How the mystery of the Bibles greatest story shaped geology: a MacArthur Fellow presents a surprising perspective on Noahs Flood. In Tibet, geologist David R. Montgomery heard a local story about a great flood that bore a striking similarity to Noahs Flood. Intrigued, Montgomery began investigating the worlds flood stories and drawing from historic works by theologians, natural philosophers, and scientists discovered the counterintuitive role Noahs Flood played in the development of both geology and creationism. Steno, the grandfather of geology, even invoked the Flood in laying geologys founding principles based on his observations of northern Italian landscapes. Centuries later, the founders of modern creationism based their irrational view of a global flood on a perceptive critique of geology. With an explorers eye and a refreshing approach to both faith and science, Montgomery takes readers on a journey across landscapes and cultures. In the process we discover the illusive nature of truth, whether viewed through the lens of science or religion, and how it changed through history and continues changing, even today. 12 illustrations; 4 maps This item ships from multiple locations.
